Governor Leonard Calvert having received a charter from the King of England, founded in 1634, St. Mary's City, the first settlement in Maryland.

The first building of St. Mary's Female Seminary.

Governor William Grayson in 1839 signed the charter establishing St. Mary's Female Seminary, as a living monument to mark the spot of the first settlement of Maryland.

FOREWORD

*On these historic grounds
we live
Surrounded by the yester years
To those who lived and toiled unceasing
And built this land with strength increasing Of Lord Cornbert and the Indians
Who signed a treaty of lasting peace
The State House built for law and order
A free church for the soul disorder
But when at last the activity ceased
A school was founded by state lease
Her pillars now standing ready and firm Never to be destroyed or upturned.*

Mrs. Minna L. Irby
BUSINESS

*We honor you fine
Southern lady Who gave of your self so free
How understanding you have been No thought of self, that cannot be Your mind well versed in business trade Has taught many, at their highest grade
With all competence
you gave without end
You were the one,
the quiet friend*

To the Graduates of 1964

We have at St. Mary's a strong belief in man's capacity for greatness of heart and spirit. Living today in a world characterized to a degree by a universal physical fear, we need to be reminded of the qualities of man that have shaped his past and will continue to determine his future. We must learn to understand and resolve this fear by observation and use of the ageless verities of courage, hope, love, honor, pride, sacrifice, pity and compassion in our daily lives. It is our belief that you have developed here some sense of security in your quest for knowledge and truth. Our greatest hope is that you will make a real contribution to the responsibility and wisdom so greatly needed in our world of today and tomorrow.

MAY RUSSELL

*To advise and teach is our job without end
To all those opened yearning minds
So filled with desire to put across Knowledge of the various degrees and kinds
Your purpose to instill in the students with zest
The desire to learn and to pass that test,
You help to broaden their limited views
And display all vocations
from which to choose,
And so your work is endless still
To fill young people with backbone and will.*

Introduced you all are

Anne Arundel Hall
Classroom Building

John Fletcher, Holly Buckner, and Pat Reagan sketch a still life in the Art Lab.

Art Department

Ray Caple utilizes the Language Lab facilities.

The Department of Art offers excellent facilities. Classes in drawing and painting, in design and crafts help to develop your creativity.

A valuable aspect of the liberal arts preparation is its insistence in the learning of a modern foreign language. A sound-proof listening room is provided where one may listen to tape recorded exercises. This allows class time to be used for more valuable instruction and eases pronunciation and intonation problems.

Language Department

Fred Wright, Sheila Kraft, John Carroll, Karen Merritts, Linda Hines, Mr. Fahl, Ken Dixon, Jeff Mattingly and Bill Patrick band together for an experiment in the Chemistry Lab.

Science Department

The biology and chemistry laboratories are large and equipped with excellent facilities for course work and extra-class research. Coupled with work in mathematics, your courses in this area will help prepare students for numerous careers in the field of science.

Debbie Scarff discovers the cat in the Biology Lab.

With a slide rule as an aid, Rita Corrinne works on her math.

Mathematics Department

Mathematics courses at St. Mary's are designed to produce a well-grounded appreciation of fundamentals.

Business Department

Ruth Garner, Sue Fauntleroy, Tish Norris, Jo Carter, and Carol Taylor operate the business machines as Dr. Walker looks on.

Margie Twiss, George Schilling, Charlene Lewis, and Linda Perkins pose in a scene from "Ladies in Retirement."

Through the medium of speech and drama, students perfect talents and develop poise to aid them whether on stage, before a class, or in front of an assembly. Staging and lighting techniques, costuming, and applying make-up are part of the invaluable assistance rendered by those behind the scenes. The cast and crew of St. Mary's Samadra Club present theatrical productions on various campuses throughout the state.

Theater Arts Department

Music Department

The Music Department offers sound training in both practical and theoretical music. Through applied music courses, individual piano and voice lessons are offered. The department seeks to provide through fundamental training an interest in and appreciation of music.

Jan Leach listens intently to Mr. Greeson's voice instruction.

Peggy Longest and Cathy Beckwith catch up on the news in the library's magazine room.

Peggy Longest and Cathy Beckwith check sources in the library.

The Library is an integral part of St. Mary's student life. The main room houses the reference and non-fiction sections, while the smaller rooms hold the periodical and fiction sections. A special collection concentrates on the history and lore of the state. Other resources of the library include a growing collection of phonograph records for use in language, theatre, English, and music classes; a motion picture, filmstrip, and slide collection; and a pamphlet and clipping file on special interest items.

Library

Guidance Department

St. Mary's is small and flexible and is able to seize the opportunity to make guidance one of her outstanding policies. Her ideal, then, is to offer educational, vocational, and personal guidance to each student according to his wishes and needs. The college seeks to stimulate your personality growth and environmental adjustment. The testing program, interviews, and daily faculty contacts are all looked upon as unique occasions through which the faculty and staff come to know you. A student's progress is noted and help, when needed, is offered.

Freshman Registration Day

Miss Chance sticks Janet Buchanan as Pat Ecker and Sue Scott look on.

The Health Program

Administered by the Resident Nurse, the Health Program preserves a healthy physical environment for the campus community. The infirmary functions as a health center, the facilities of which are available to all students and which can accommodate confined patients.

Home Economics Department

Using modern and spacious facilities, the Department of Home Economics prepares students for professional needs in the science of Home Economics. Students gain practical experience in both food preparation and modern clothing.

Mary Franklin, Myra Lutes, and Alice Stambaugh develop their culinary interests as Miss Osland looks on.

*In knowledge we are proving strong
But more is needed
in which to learn Activities provide for us a needed diversion
From books, and notes to a boating excursion Or maybe first a quiet walk with a friend with whom you like to talk.
A musical program in classical form
A dance well attended in spite of the storm.
All those activities it's easy to say
Help make our life happier from day to day.*

Boys' Basketball

Harold Burroughs (23) and Casmir Szlendak (42) practice for an upcoming game.

These are our "Retrievers." The boys' basketball team of SMS. Under the able supervision of Mr. Dewey the team competed with other colleges such as West Point Prep, Military, Baltimore Institute and Prince Georges.

Girls' Basketball

Basketball is a very popular sport at SMS. All those who wish may participate in the intramural program. An All-Star team is chosen from the intramuralers to participate in competitive games with other Maryland colleges.

Due to the weather this year's All-Stars played only one game. This game was played at home against Salisbury. The score was 41-22, in favor of Salisbury.

This year St. Mary's was the hostess school for the Maryland Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Women. We sponsored two conferences, one in the Fall and the other in the Spring. These conferences were held to help benefit the Women's Athletic Associations in Maryland colleges.

The favorite fall sport of the girls is hockey. Many girls take an active part in the intramural program. An All-Star team is selected and under the supervision of Mrs. Clevenger competes with other colleges. The scores this year were:

0	SMS vs. Salisbury	9
11	SMS vs. Baltimore Junior College	0
1	SMS vs. Villa Julie	2

These girls boosted and helped to support our "Retrievers" this year. They went with the team and shared the victories and defeats.

Archery this year is practiced by many sophomores in their gym classes. It is also a popular spring sport and many participate in the intramural program.

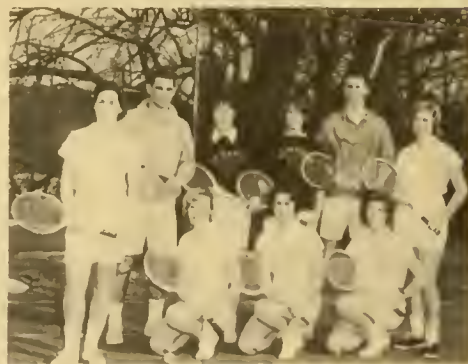

What better activity to have at SMS than sailing. Sailing classes are offered each semester. On nice days our little "Penguins" with their hearty crews can be seen gliding up and down in St. Mary's Bay.

The other major sport participated in by our boys is tennis. When the basketball season is over the tennis rackets come out. This varsity team competed with other colleges.

When the weather is nice the gym classes take to the outdoors. Here the freshmen girls are playing tennis volley on the tennis courts.

The Trampoline—pictured: Mike Fitzgerald and Stan Chemacki. The trampoline is a new and very popular addition to the physical education facilities. After school and in the evening, students can be found trying jumps, flips, and drops on it.

Winter Activities

Each year before Christmas Vacation the students of St. Mary's College go caroling to all the homes on campus.

Susan Crumpacker, Carol Peil and Queen Kathie Bishop.

The theme of the Christmas Prom this year was Greensleeves. The Queen Kathie Bishop reigned over a court bedecked with hand painted tapestries, lattices and at the east end of the room an enormous fireplace. The Queen's two princesses were Susan Crumpacker and Carol Peil.

Two students of Bennington College performing the modern dance.

Part of the cultural program, which introduces the students to the finer arts, is the Artist Lecture Series. The Artist Lecture Series presents four major concerts during the winter season. Each concert is designed to acquaint the students with a different phase of the fine arts, such as the National Symphony Orchestra, Oriental Dances and Art Collections. The Artist Lecture Series is one of the most stimulating programs at St. Mary's College.

The Columbus Boys' Choir of Princeton, New Jersey, performs for St. Mary's College.

Activities for the Future

Pictured above is the plan for the new women's dormitory, Princess Anne Hall, which will be finished in 1965. This is the first step in realizing our hopes and aspirations for developing St. Mary's into a fully-equipped four-year college. The same year a new student union-dining room will open. Each year following, we anticipate the opening of new buildings until our ten-year development plan has been completed. With the construction of new buildings the opportunities for new types of activities will increase.

Student Government

The central government organization is known to all as The Men's and Women's Student Government. Its officers, elected by the student body, represent basically the ideals of the students. As its goal the council promotes general welfare, good citizenship, and improved relationship among the students.

Campus Council

This organization is composed of the faculty and officers of the various campus organizations. Its purpose is to discuss and solve campus problems, thus promoting a good relationship between the faculty, administration, and student body.

Orientation Committee

The Orientation Committee is composed of sophomore girls who help the incoming freshmen to adjust to college life. To give them information about the school, to answer their questions, and to make the girls feel at home—this is the purpose of its members.

Social Committee

Throughout the year the Social Committee members set up student social affairs, plans dances and act as hostesses for various social events.

Left to right, seated: M. Walsh, N. Harkness, D. Caddell, Chairman; C. Hines, D. King. Standing: Bank, W. Beltz, B. Bown, J. Slade, H. Buckner, D. Spalding, G. Schilling, Miss Simms, J. Cejka.

Assembly Committee

Weekly, the Assembly Committee plans and presents programs to the student body. Their job includes finding a variety of entertainment that is both informative and interesting.

Artist and Lecture Series

The Artist and Series Committee welcomes and helps with arrangements for the four concert artist programs. The college works in cooperation with the county in bringing cultural entertainment to the area.

Student Loan

The student loan fund is a newly formed organization sponsoring a project designed to meet needs not covered by other loan programs. The purpose of the committee is to afford a source for short-term loans to students needing financial help through an emergency period.

Phi Theta Kappa

Phi Theta Kappa is the national honorary scholastic fraternity on campus. The purposes of this fraternity are to promote scholarship and to develop character. To be eligible for Phi Theta Kappa, the student must be in the upper ten percent of the school scholastically with a 3.0 average, have good moral character, and possess recognized qualities of leadership.

From left: Mr. L. Buker, advisor; D. Scarff, vice-president; M. Berkey, president; C. Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. R. Hammett, secretary.

Point News

This is the college monthly newspaper published by the students. It discusses problems on the campus, and reports happenings of major interest to the students.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club is comprised of students interested in keeping well-informed on world problems and events. Each members has the opportunity to choose topics to be discussed and to give his views on any matter presented.

Left to right, first row: Dr. Yarborough, advisor; J. Schaub, President; R. Corrine, Secretary; J. Van Dalsum, M. Franklin. Second row: G. Schilling, A. Foster, E. Weiland, C. Fox, J. Slade.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club meets once a month and is open to all future homemakers. During the year, the club members take an active part in school activities by sewing, as hostesses at social functions, and keeping informed of the latest material in the field.

Samadra

This dramatics organization gives the students a chance to participate in all phases of dramatics. Not only the players, but the lighting, staging, and makeup crews help make the presentation of Ladies in Retirement possible this year.
